Ten Men on the Bearcat Team Win Letters for 1938

Sipes, Zuchowski to be Lost to Next Year's Squad by Graduation This Spring

In a meeting held last week, the athletic committee of the College with Mr. H. R. Dieterich as chairman, voted to award basketball letters to ten men who wore the Green and White on the court last winter.

The following athletes will be awarded letters:

Freshmen—Jack Salmon, Q. Goslee, Donald Johnson and Dean Walker.

Other men who came close to winning the varsity letter in the winter sport were Gale Donahue, Harold Hutcheson and Russell Dowell.

Only two of the above mentioned men will be lost by graduation. Although Sipes and Zuchowski were prominent factors in the success of the court squad the past winter, local basketball enthusiasts are confident of a winning team next year. The local cagers won second place in the M.I.A.A. this year and ended their regular season with a record of fourteen wins in eighteen starts.

COLLEGE STUDENT INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Frances Ambrose, Bedison, last Saturday night suffered painful knee injuries as a result of an automobile accident on Highway No. 71 north of St. Joseph. She was riding in a car driven by her father when the machine collided head-on with another automobile driven by L. P. Cooney, Kansas City, Kas.

Miss Ambrose had been shopping in St. Joseph Saturday with her parents, and had purchased a new formal to wear to the Varsity Villagers' formal dinner Monday night. All of the clothing in the car including the new formal gown, was strewn over the side of an embankment near the scene of the accident.

Students Vote Today On New Proposed S. G. A. Constitution

Students Are Granted More Power In Completely Changed Document

Students in the College will vote at a special assembly today for the acceptance or rejection of the new Constitution of the Student Government Association. The voting will be by special signed ballot.

The new document will provide for the granting of more power to the Association through its Student Senate. Two examples of this fact will be found in Article II of the by-laws, providing that four instead of two students shall serve on the College assembly and entertainment committee and the student-affairs committee.

Some time ago, the Senate proposed an amendment to the Constitution which would make the editor of The Northwest Missourian a regular voting member of the Student Senate. Since that time, however, it has been decided that he shall serve as an ex-officio member, without vote.

The new Constitution provides each class in the College with a Constitution of its own. Heretofore the classes have not had a document of this type.

The most important change in the new Constitution over the old, besides the changes in wording, is the method of electing a president and vice-president. While candidates will still be nominated from the floor at the nominating convention, no names shall be placed "in the ring," unless they appear in a list published in this newspaper a week before the convention.

Filing of candidates' names may be made with Mr. R. E. Baldwin, registrar of the College, before next Wednesday noon, April 6. The list of filed names will be published in The Missourian next week.

The Student Senate is the gov-

THE STUDENT PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

I want to extend to the seniors of the various high schools in this district a hearty welcome. This day has been set aside for you to show you the advantages of a College training. Each year thousands of students graduate from high schools throughout the country. A great many of them are inclined to believe that their education is finished.

It is not necessary to have a College education to succeed in life. However, those people with foresight and ambition will go to College. College trained men and women are in demand, and they do reach a greater degree of success.

I sincerely hope that you high school seniors will find this day a profitable one. It is my fond desire that the coming year will find you furthering your development.

1938 Tower Heads Announce Year Book Now is Complete

Hill and Davidson Take Finished Edition to Kansas City for Printing

The 1938 Tower, yearbook of the College, is "all ready to go to press," according to Gene Hill, Calhoun, and Fred Davidson, Barnard, editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively.

Hill and Davidson will take the edition, which is finished as far as the local Tower staff is concerned, to Kansas City Saturday where it will be turned over to the printer. The Tower editor said this week that it would take a month or more to print the annual.

Mr. Roy Ferguson, faculty sponsor of the Tower, will accompany Hill and Davidson to Kansas City.

Students may expect the yearbook's issuance this year the first or second week in May, the Tower head stated. All organizations have not paid for their pages as yet, and Hill asks that these bills be paid early so that there will be no delay in issuing the yearbook.

The Tower is the annual publication of the College and is edited by the Junior Class. The purpose of the Tower is to record the events of the year so that the students may have a complete record of their college life.

The publication of the book is managed by a Tower staff composed of an editor, business manager and associates from the sophomore and junior classes.

Intramural Program Gives Athletic Expression to All

Men and Women Participate in Sports At College Gymnasium; Many Games Included

PROGRAM FOR EACH SEASON

WM. EVANS

Sports Editor, Missourian

What chance for athletic expression has the average student who attends the College? A few years ago the answer would have been "very little," but today that is not the case. With a well-rounded intramural program for both men and women, this College ranks high in the field of physical education.

In the fall, the intramural commission is appointed by the Student Senate. This commission works in cooperation with the men's athletic department in the outlining of the intramural program for the men students of the College. The women's division of the athletic department along with the Women's Athletic Association board have charge of the women's program.

The fall quarter finds a variety of interesting tournaments including golf and tennis. All freshmen and sophomores are also enrolled in some physical education class that includes basketball, gymnastics, tennis, swimming, social dancing, volleyball and softball.

When old man winter breathes his hoary breath over the campus, the gymnasium becomes one of the most active places in the physical plant. Last winter fifteen well-matched intramural basketball teams fought out a round robin schedule which was not decided until the last game had been played. Other activities include swimming in the College pool in the basement of the gym, ping pong, volleyball, boxing, wrestling, tumbling, and calisthenics. The equipment includes parallel bars, horizontal bars, rowing machines, Indian clubs and other apparatus helpful in keeping one physically fit. All are available to any College student or faculty member.

The spring quarter finds more outdoor activity as soon as "old man so" begins to beam his approval. A tournament is held for places on the varsity tennis tournament and then another tournament is conducted for the "second raters." At the present time a softball tourney is being played by eight fast teams. Other events include golf, horse-shoe pitching, badminton, and ping-pong.

The program for women is not less active. Besides the regular classes for credit which include general gym activity, swimming, dancing, hockey, tennis and softball, the W.A.A. board arranges tournaments in hockey, tennis, softball, volleyball, ping-pong, and swimming.

The intercollegiate sports include football, track, baseball, tennis and golf. Any man student who is skilled in any of these will find it advantageous to try for the varsity and thus solve his physical education problem. However, for the mediocre participant who plays for the healthful recreation he can garner will find his program full if he but desires to put forth the effort.

W. A. A. HOLDS TOURNAMENT

The inter-class volleyball tournament of the W.A.A. will end this week. The championship is still to be determined. The final game will be played between frosh and sophs.

The Stroller

It was fine picnic weather wasn't it Bruggeman, Strong and Bird. At least Iola and the Christian College girls thought so.

Well! Well! Manifold has added another fem to his string. This time it's Dorothy Young.

Just curious, J. Gibson, but what was the meaning of the fond farewells to two of our Don Juan Hash-slingers Friday night of the Freshie's party?

For information boys, use Max Otte's way, that is, ask her girl friend to find out for you.

Then there is the freshman boy in the bookstore, who had to have five straws to drink his milk, dear Baby Lawson.

Eddie Quillan just can't seem to keep up with his new friend (Laura Margaret Davis). What's the matter, Eddie?

Is it Spring or is it love, Doc Yates and Maxine Gooden?

Just some of the boys who are polishing up for the girls who are coming on Senior Day: Edgar Abbot, Thomas Boyd, Clifton Cox, Fred Davidson, Ted Tyson, and a few others.

Guess who—shaped like a barrel—not quite, but almost—and has red hair this week. Can you guess this—Riddle?

Our cradle rockers: Virginia Lee, Ruth Marie Burch, June Ernst, and Winifred Caton. Grow up kids.

The little brunette Taylor girl better take heed and slow down. There are dangerous corners ahead.

MISSOURIAN STAFF ISSUES EDITION FOR SENIORS

The Missourian is distributed to the faculty and members of the student body. It is sent to every newspaper office and high school library in Northwest Missouri and to many in Southwest Iowa, as well as to parents of students in College.

Members of the staff have an opportunity for training in journalistic forms of writing. Activity credit is given for work on the staff. Students on the staff are eligible for membership in the Missouri College Newspaper Association.

Editors of the paper this year are as follows: Frederick Schneider, Stanberry, senior, editor-in-chief; Paul Strohm, Maryville, junior, assistant editor; William Evans, Sheridan, junior, sports editor; and Doris Hiles, Burlington Junction, junior, society editor. Mr. Dieterich will give an address tomorrow night at Graham, at a Father and Son banquet at the high school there.

The women have been able to travel through the country and to the cities near Maryville. These trips have acquainted them with this vicinity to such an extent that they should be well suited to judge this locality.

Having studied hard they have made good grades throughout the time they have been here. Miss Alano said they were planning to attend summer school here and then during the month's vacation in August they hope to be able to make a trip into Canada.

The women have had one great disappointment during their stay they would see, but to their sorrow, only a few shifts fell throughout the entire Winter season.

The Spring season that is common to inhabitants of this nation is an unknown season in the Philippines. There, they experience only a wet and a dry season in the course of a year.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR DAY

The College welcomes the High School Seniors to our Campus. Many are making their first visit, each of us should help to make it enjoyable; for others it is a return visit, make them glad to be back. All the facilities of the College on Senior day are made available in order that these Seniors may learn what kind of a College we have, something of our social, educational, and political life, and thus to enable the seniors to evaluate this college with the idea of their future attendance.

Each student in the College should appoint himself a host and make the day as pleasant and profitable to these, our guests, as possible. May the guests of the College depart at the end of the day with the feeling that they have experienced a day well-spent and the hope of a better acquaintance next fall.

IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY LIGHTLY TURNS TO THOUGHTS OF...

The general election.

Each Spring at about this time, various groups on the campus hold meetings to determine what candidates shall be their trial balloons in the general election of student officers. Already meetings of this kind have been held by various groups, and perhaps those groups already know definitely who will be their candidates.

The election of the president and vice-president of the Student Government Association will take place on the campus here on some day to be announced later between the dates of April 18 and April 23. The nominating convention will be held in the form of a general assembly April 11.

In the event that the new Constitution is adopted, filing of applications will begin April 1 and will continue until noon on Wednesday, April 6. Any student in the institution who so desires and who has completed at least fifty hours of College work may file his name or have his friend file for him. The filing will be done in the office of the registrar, and technical qualifications will be filed along with the name.

The names on file will be published in THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN of April 7, and names put up for both president and vice-president of the Student Government Association must be names which have appeared in the published file. Furthermore, nominations shall not cease until at least three candidates have been nominated unless fewer than three file for either office.

The general Spring election is an exciting time on the campus. Every group is busily at work in an attempt to get its man into office, and the whole business of the campaign is a great amount of just plain "fun." On the other hand, it is hoped that the various organizations who are sponsoring the candidacy of a man will place their best person in the field and that, in the end, the man who can best conduct the affairs of student government shall be placed in office. The same holds for the election by all classes except the outgoing seniors of individual members to the Senate for next year.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE PAPER

THE MISSOURIAN received a card this week from a student's father. For some unknown reason, the father had not received his copy of the paper, so he asked that the next week's paper be sent.

"I surely missed it." This father, like other parents, reads the College newspaper, enjoys it, and is glad to see it arrive each week.

Collegiate activities are of interest, therefore, not only to those who take part in them but also to those students' home folks. Likewise, they are of interest to the many alumni of the College who often express their interest in and gratitude for the newspaper which each week again establishes their contact with their Alma Mater.

The Seniors of 1938 will soon leave to establish themselves in a world that differs in attitude and in significance from the world of College in which they have spent the past four years. May the College newspaper be to them a contact, a welcome renewal of their association with their Alma Mater, and a sign of the continued interest of the College in its Alumni.

THE WELCOMES

In addition to the many welcomes which the visiting High School Seniors will have from students and faculty members, President Uel W. Lamkin and Mr. Homer T. Phillips, chairman of the education department here, will welcome the visiting students in special assemblies. High marks in the day of the visitors might easily be these two addresses, for both men see from a vantage point of travel, experience and study that renders them efficient in leadership and expert in counsel.

If the visiting High School Seniors might take these welcomes with their fullest significance, take them to their hearts, understand them, they should feel that they are indeed welcome at the College for the fourth annual Senior Day. It may be that sometime many visiting seniors will be stimulated to strive to a position of leadership to better the commonwealth that nurtures them. If they do, they will listen to and appreciate the words of such leaders as they shall hear in the assemblies here.

THE REAL CHARITY

No man, no honest man, wants coddling. A fair chance to help himself is all he asks. If blind or deaf or crippled, still for himself he bespeaks no more. The greatest gift one person can give another, Helen Keller has said over and over, is not to do something for him, but to enable him to do something for himself.

A case in point is Miss Keller herself, to men everywhere the symbol of fruitful life grown from a blighted blossom...through patient nurture by a friend. March 3rd, the fifty-first anniversary of Miss Keller's first meeting with her teacher, was observed as National Helen Keller Day, in aid of the blind. Civic and service club groups, which, on many fronts are doing much to help the blind and incapacitated, may wish to remember this word from her: "The heaviest burden on the blind is not blindness, but idleness."—The Rotarian.

CAMPUS COMMENT

Seemingly a Constitution revising rage has hit the campus. Last week it was announced the Student Senate proposed a revision—or an entirely new—Constitution for the Student Government Association, and this week comes the word that the women over at Residence Hall are revising the Hall Constitution. We trust that the changes will make both documents better.

While various welcomes are being extended to the High School Seniors, THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN takes this opportunity, through its special Senior Day edition, to extend its warmest welcome. We hope they enjoy, as a part of their day, the special copy of the paper.

The WRITERS' NOOK

Writing is an art. He who would express himself must find a medium. The painter must cultivate the art of painting. The musician must cultivate the art of music. He who would express himself in writing must cultivate the art of writing.

MAN CANNOT LIVE BY HEART ALONE

He walked on hot pavement
But what mattered that?
When in his heart he was in green meadows
Where cool breezes play over tired bodies.

He dined on rancid fish and stale bread
But what mattered that?
When in his heart he was dining in a king's banquet hall
On roast pig and wine.

He slept on the hard boards of a warehouse
But what mattered that?
When in his heart he slept on deep cushioned couches
In some far off land of mystery.

He had no work
But what mattered that?
When in his heart—his heart no longer beats
His heart did not die from want,
His heart was never hungry,
But his body—man cannot live by his heart alone.

LONELINESS

I feel what others seek,
A solitary loneliness;
With me the pine trees weep
Painfully breathing the chilling wind.
It would not be so lonely
Had the sun not dropped,
Slipped away from my western world
Leaving me all alone
With the tempting pines.

—Lurline Stevens

INDECISION

Far out
Above the agitated waters of the sea
A star gleams, brilliantly clear.
And though I turn my face,
Or close my eyes,
It gleams, and beckons, beckons.
The waters beat
With dumb futility
Against the shore.
The star beckons, beckons.
A cold spray strikes my face;
I turn, and walk away.

—A. Sawyers

I HAD FORGOTTEN

I had forgotten the time you broke my doll
When all my sorrow lost itself in tears,
When you had gone I picked up broken parts
But I had forgotten through the years.

I will forget the time you broke my heart
When I had too much pride for tears
When I walked away and left the broken part.
I will have forgotten through the years.

—Mildred Walker

GRANDMOTHER'S PICTURES

I see those dear old pictures, quite rejected and worn, hanging there on the flower-papered wall. Grandmother's eyes, filled with blinding tears, had dwelt on them many a lonely and dreary evening. Perhaps it was just in the shaded twilight of a cheerful day or it was just the same in the dull dim of a sunless sky. Faint lines lighted Uncle John's stanch and stalwart countenance, and sweetened Baby Rose's tender blessings. Grandmother's hands had caressed each line of every picture, perhaps just to see if her dear ones could not be living again. But now Grandmother too, is gone. Her picture is placed with the others and hidden away.

No longer are these pictures impressions. What can be in those dead unlighted faces with their long beards and unwrinkled brows? I can be said each lived his day and did what he could. Expressions cannot escape through darkness, for Grandmother's old pictures are hidden deeply in the antiques of the up-stairs clothes closet.

Cowardly, I seek the rejected and one by one I bring those cold expressions again to light. Being worried again, each countenance radiates a glow of blessedness. They are not dead; they live.

I see Grandmother's dear old hands as she serenely toiled with her needlework producing a love of forgotten art. Again I recognize her knitted brow as she sat in her little corner with us all. From her tender lips carelessly, she uttered little warnings from her experiences of care and of happiness, all the time expressing her emotions with the movements of her hands. Those hands do haunt me with their shadowed lines, their raised veins, and their transparent flesh. Alive, yet so near dead.

And with all the rest a gallery made of Grandmother's pictures. I see Uncle John's marching to war, Aunt Minnie and the children helpless and utter prayers for his return. Uncle Charles dressed in hunting uniform loved the chase. That twinkle in his eye was as much as to say, "Please love me, son." And little Baby Rose a flower to all was just a breath which vanished from the family life.

I see the family here and there. The work is done, the chores are through. After having a simple supper, the family gather round the open fire-place, and in the flickering, sparkling flames read their dreams.

Slowly I crept from my gallery away from my dreams and awakened again to reality.

Over Half of Present Freshmen Work Way Through College

Recent Statistics Show Nineteen Percent Work for All of Their Expenses

THEY HOLD VARIOUS POSITIONS

Many College students earn part of their way through College, according to Mr. A. H. Cooper. In the year 1936-37, 148 girls and 126 men of the freshman class earned part of their school expenses. In the year 1937-38, of 356 freshman students, 197 had part-time employment. Of the students who worked, 19 per cent made all of their expenses, 9 per cent made three-fourths of their expenses, 14 per cent made one-half, and 13 per cent earned one-fourth.

Various ways of financing their education included working in homes for board and room (or for those items separately), working as clerks, soda dispensers, driving oil trucks, driving taxis, working as garage mechanics, filling station attendants, working as delivery boys, as paper carriers, as bell hops in the local hotels, working in restaurants and boarding houses, and working as office assistants for dentists and doctors.

According to statistics from the office of Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith, director of women's activities, of the 417 women enrolled in the College, 121 have part-time employment. Thirty-five women of the 121 are working for their room and board.

Dr. Smith advises that incoming women and others who intend to work for board and room should file their applications early and be prepared to interview prospective employers.

There are approximately fifty-five students on the state pay-roll and seventy-seven students receiving NYA employment. College jobs are given only to students who have proven their ability and worth. It is unwise for any freshman to enter expecting to earn all expenses, due to the fact that there are not enough positions available nor sufficient hours in a day for any one to earn all expenses and attend classes.

Water Carnival for High School Seniors

The athletic department of the College has arranged an outstanding swimming and diving exhibition for High School Senior Day. Sixteen men and women of the College will take part in a one-hour show that will be re-run in order to give all the Seniors who wish to see the performances a chance to do so. The meet starts promptly at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The swim fest will be run in four sections of fifteen minutes each. The first will be a demonstration of the proper form on seven swimming strokes and sixteen dives. Not only will the correct way to dive be shown but also the wrong way. From reliable sources it is understood that plenty of comedy is to be injected into the affair.

The second section will be a water polo game between two well-matched mixed teams. This event will begin at 9:15 and 10:15.

Third on the program, starting at 9:30 and 10:30 will be featured formations and relays by the women members of the exhibition team.

The finale will be a demonstration of the proper ways to save a life from drowning. This event will be staged at 9:45 and 10:45.

Strokes that are to be included in the first part of the program are: elementary back, side, single over-arm, racing back, breast, breast underwater and crawl.

Women who will take part in the stroke demonstration are: Harriett Harvey, Beatrice Leeson, Marjorie Farmer, Mariam Martin, Hope Wilson, Marcia Tyson, Mary Margaret Bentley, and Iris Stubbs. Men participating are: Millard Hanson, Walter Wilson, Allen Neil, Glen Hensley, James Weir, Don Moyer, Gale Donahue, and Paul Lindsey.

Dives that are to be shown at the event are: plain front, running front with spring, swan, front jack, back jack, back swan, half gaynor with layout, full gaynor, full twist, front flip once, once and a half front flip with and without twist, hand stand, and spanker.

Harvey, Bentley, and Leeson from the above women will handle the dive demonstrations. Men who will dive are Donahue, Lindsey, and Weir.

The water polo teams and those who will do the stunts are to be picked from those already listed.

Social Life for Student Benefit Is College Work

Many Events Are Staged for Entertainment of Collegians During Regular School Term

DANCES, PARTIES INCLUDED

Throughout the school year there is a continuous stream of social events to keep College life from becoming boring with too much work.

There are several important dances during the year. There is the Homecoming dance given each fall during teachers meeting in order to welcome back old students. There is the formal Christmas ball, the Hashslingers ball, the "M" club dance, the Junior-Senior prom, and the Scoop dance which is sponsored by the staffs of The Northwest Missourian and The Tower for the purpose of introducing the beauty queens of the College. The fraternities and the sororities also sponsor dances.

Besides dances there are parties running from the sublime to the ridiculous. Just a few weeks ago the freshmen had a kid party, and what a time they did have being small children.

Two red letter days in the College are the days when the dads and mothers are the honor guests. The dads are entertained in the fall and the mothers in the spring.

Each quarter the College sponsors two major entertainments. Students here have had the opportunity of hearing such world famous entertainers as Richard Halliburton, Mary McCormick, the Chicago Little Symphony orchestra and many others.

One of the highlights of the year is Walk Out Day. In the fall the students listen anxiously for the sound of the bugle which is the signal to drop all books for the day and to prepare for a day of dancing, eating, games and a picture show.

In the spring there is a music and dance festival. Teas, banquets, bus trips and many other social activities give their bit to make the school year more worthwhile and enjoyable.

Many Students In College from Many States

North And South Share Almost Equally in Representatives On Student Body Here

THREE ARE FROM DELAWARE

It seems strange that so many far away places should be represented in a small Middle Western College, but such is found to be the case when we take a glance through the files.

Out of the twenty-seven "far-away" students here in school now, only seven of them are girls, which seems to show that the boys are the ones who wander far afield in quest of an education.

Taking the whole group, by and large, we find that most of them were advised to attend the College here by a former graduate, relative, or a close friend. Many of the coaches who have graduated from M.S.T.C. send their outstanding players here to further their athletic careers, and to carry on the glory of the Alma Mater.

"Ike" Howell, six feet, ten inches of good humor, and southern drawl, hails from Columbus, Ga. Ike was advised to go here by friends. He lettered last year in basketball, and this year in both football and basketball. "Ike" is a sophomore and is majoring in commerce.

Six lads have joined our ranks from the towns of Virden and Thayer, Ill. These towns are only about two miles apart, and Sam England, '20, coach at the school, recommended M.S.T.C. to the boys, and more of them come here to school every year. Jean Nickel, also a junior has made his letter in football. Jean is a chemistry major. Frank Yourek is a sophomore who lettered last year in track.

Bernie McLaughlin is a sophomore commerce major who made his letter in track last year. Edwin George Paisley, Jr., is a freshman physical education major who lettered in football this year. Last, but not least, is Stanley "Burr Head" Pelc, another freshman physical education major whose chest is amply broad to provide a resting place for that huge white "M" he won in football this year.

Away from athletics, we find that we have many students here in school who have come here to take advantage of the fine music department. Eddie Quillin comes from far-off Laurel, Del., to play his French horn, and break all the female hearts. Eddie is a sophomore.

Others from Delaware are Jack Hudson from Lewes, and Carlton Wilson, strong silent man from Lew-end. Carlton is a freshman pre-medical student.

From Ocean Grove, New Jersey, comes John Pandolphe with a determination to conquer the whole world. John is a history major and lettered this year in football.

David Wilton joins us from Carlyle, Ill., this quarter. Dave is a pre-law student, and a promising track man.

The members of the fair sex who travel far for an education are fewer, but no less important to the school. First we should like to mention ping-pong playin' Sue Bell from Van Buren, Ark., the home of Bob Burns. Sue says that it won't be long until people will be saying that Bob Burns comes from the same town that Sue Bell comes from. Sue is a sophomore, art major, and also president of Varsity Villagers, association of off-campus women.

Little Jane Hutton, comes from Pasadena, Calif., to grace our campus.

Lois Langland comes from Spring Grove, Minn. Miss Langland is a freshman English major, and is also very active in music groups on the campus.

Mary Francis Morrell is a sophomore commerce major from Hubbard, Ohio.

Space does not permit going into detail concerning others who have come many miles to go to school here, but we should like at least to mention their names in lieu of anything better. The others are: David Crozier, Berkley, Mich.; Kenneth Harper, Fort Morgan, Colo.; Willis Goza, Mounds, Ill.; Leslie Horn, Oconto, Nebr.; Jean Martine, Hammond, Ind.; Thea Oller, Cairo, Ill.; Everett Richards, Thomasville, Ga.; Donald Wilson Morrill, Nebr.; Paul Tracy, Hubbard, Ohio; and Elizabeth Wilson, Traverse City, Mich.

Before we stop we can't help saying just a little about Don Moyer, Harrisburg, Penn., the lad with the hot trumpet. Don is a freshman music major.

Gloria Paz Santos, Ana Virginia Benitez and Lenora T. Alano came 11,000 miles from the Philippine Islands to attend M.S.T.C.

Those who will attend the conference are Dr. O. Myking Mehus and Dr. Henry A. Foster, of the department of social science; Helen Ford, St. Joseph; J. K. Mail Spring Contests Invitations to Schools

In case of a tie, the points will be divided. In making the following selection of contests which will be considered in awarding the scholarship trophies, consideration was given to those courses which are most likely to be included in high schools, regardless of size.

The results of the following contests will be considered in total points for awarding the scholarship trophies: First year algebra, plane geometry, advanced algebra, general science, physics, biology, citizenship, world history, American history, American problems, high school geography, grammar and literature interpretation.

A large number of high school students are expected to attend annual events for this year. This year, approximately 4,000 students competed in the contests, and a number is expected this year. A general program of the contests will be the same as last year.

Freshmen Become Adjusted to College Through Orientation

Students Take Course to Acquaint Selves to New Environment

ONE HOUR CREDIT IS GIVEN

Freshman Orientation is a course offered at this institution, designed to help the student adjust himself to college life. It is a course to help the student make the abrupt change from high school life to a school life which is broader and more complicated.

The Freshman Orientation course consists of two quarters of study. The course meets only once a week, and a credit of one semester hour is given upon satisfactory completion of the course.

The course is offered for the purpose of helping the new student. It acquaints the student into the College. It provides the answers to many questions which the freshman feels tempted to ask.

The proper use of the library, the extra-curricular activities, the proper method of studying, the relationship between teacher and pupil, our traditions and fraternities, our school constitution, our "Alma Mater," a copy of the College Blue Book—these are only a few of the subjects which are discussed in the orientation course.

The instructors in this course try to give the student the basic material in which he will need to build himself through his year as a freshman, but through all four quarters of College.

The word "orientate" means "to give one's bearings." Through the orientation course the freshman gets his bearings. Not every College offers the new student this excellent opportunity of getting one's bearings before he proceeds into the college which he does not fully understand.

Pe Girardeau Teachers, led by McLane won their third straight indoor track crown last night at Columbia by rolling up 54 points to outstrip their nearest adversary by some twenty points. Pe placed fourth with a total of 21 points.

counting only eight markers. The Kirksville team did not compete.

For Maryville, Mudd took fourth in both the mile and two-mile runs, McLaughlin won second in the 60-yard low hurdles, Tabor fourth in the 880 yard run, and Yourek and Ostrus tied for fourth in the high jump. The mile relay team placed third to complete the Maryville scoring.

McLane, Cape star, won high point honors with a total of 21 points. These included four first places and a tie for a third. In the broad jump he soared 23 feet for a new record.

Marion Donald of Springfield was the only other record breaker. He was clocked at 10:10.5 in the two-mile run to break the old record set by Pat King of Maryville back in 1931.

Over 100 Students Help Reorganize Independent Group

Organization Formed to Make for Redistribution of Government Representatives

Over 100 College students met in Social Hall last Thursday evening for the initial rally of the independent organization, at which time it was reinstated temporarily upon the campus after remaining dormant for several years.

The purpose for forming the independent organization, according to Guy Davis of Craig, temporary chairman, is to insure proportionate representation of independent students in student governing affairs, which he explained is at present almost dominated by members of the College fraternities and sororities.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the student senate, which is composed of 13 members has only 3 independent senators compared to 10 members who belong to the fraternities and sororities. It was further shown that the number of students belonging to fraternities and sororities is only 151 compared to the 561 independent students.

It was also stressed at the meeting that the independents favor more active indulgence upon the part of the women students in government affairs. It was shown that of the 712 students enrolled at the College this quarter, 417 of these are women compared to the 295 men, and the proportion of students who hold student senate positions is 11 to 2 in favor of the men.

It was announced this week by Mr. Davis that the independents would meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Social Hall. A committee to handle publicity matters was elected at the meeting last Thursday which is composed of Virgil Elliott, Barnard, chairman; Harriet Harvey, Tarkio; Robert Darr, Kansas City; Mildred Yates, Farragut, Ia., and Charles Curry, Parnell.

Maryville State College Takes Care of Health of Its Students

Medical Staff Here Is Composed of Dr. F. R. Anthony, Physician, And Two Aides

STUDENTS MAY USE HOSPITAL

The College medical staff composed of Dr. F. R. Anthony, the College physician; a registered nurse, Miss Mercedes Duncan; and a desk girl, is excellently prepared to diagnose all aches and pains and to give advice on any question of health to any and all students registered here.

The major phase carried on by this staff is preventive medicine or good health education. The general principles of hygiene are given to the students through class room work.

Every student of the College has the privilege of receiving a complete physical examination during his first quarter in school. At this time students are given a number and a record card on which a complete private individual record of their health is kept. This record is filed by the catalogue system and at any time during the student's College career it may be referred to for any desired information. The student retains his original number as long as he is connected in any way with the College.

The physical examination is checked for each student every quarter and oftener if the College physician deems it necessary. By this method much of the disease is prevented and the general health of the students is kept on a much higher level.

The major object of the medical department is to teach prospective teachers to be able to recognize the different health conditions and to know when a person needs a doctor.

The College doctor and his staff consider it their very important duty to watch for and immunize such diseases as small pox, diphtheria and typhoid fever among the College students. Students who are ill are not treated by the College physician but they are advised as to when it is necessary to turn to their own family physician for treatment.

billy, Don Wilson, whose voice is familiar to radio listeners, as a radio announcer. Also in the cast are Victor Moore, Milton Berle, Jane Froman, Buster West and - Melissa Mason, along with Hal Kemp and his orchestra. Their are many novelty acts in "Radio City Revels," which help to make it one of the best entertainment shows of the year.

The efficiency of the health department is illustrated by the fact that in the last four years there has been only two cases of pneumonia among College students here. Dr. Anthony and his staff make it their duty to be sure that all food served at the dormitory is pure and wholesome.

During the office hours of the College doctor, which are from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m., many close contacts are made with the students. Last year the staff made 2,668 personal contacts with the College students. Up to Feb. 24 of this school year, 2,083 were made. These statistics prove that the efficiency of the medical staff is rapidly improving.

The College activity fund provides for the payment of a room in the St. Francis hospital of this city during the time that a student of the College is a patient there. This fund, however, does not provide for payment of physicians or nurses' fees or payment for medicines furnished.
